

CONGRESS POISED TO ENDANGER ARCTIC CARIBOU AND COLLEGE STUDENTS

Critical Budget Vote Looms

ARCTIC NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE
on high alert. Vote Imminent.

We Must Stop Congress This September.

Drilling proponents plan to authorize Arctic Refuge oil drilling as part of many measures to reduce the budget deficit. Tuition Aid and other entitlement programs will also be cut. This backdoor approach means that Senators cannot filibuster or separate these measures.

THIS VOTE WILL DETERMINE THE FATE OF THE ARCTIC WILDLIFE REFUGE

THIS VOTE WILL HURT COLLEGE STUDENTS

The Arctic Refuge is a special place - for wildlife, for Alaska's Gwich'in Nation, and for our children's legacy. If the Arctic Refuge is industrialized, we will have lost one of our greatest national treasures, and set a damaging precedent for other refuges.

Together we can STOP Congress from balancing the budget with Arctic oil drilling and college tuition cuts.

Here's How: Attend Arctic Refuge Action Day

Join thousands of Americans in Washington, DC on September 20th at 11 am on the West Lawn of the U.S. Capitol. Lobby your Congressional members.

Tell Congress: College Aid Not Arctic Oil

For more information and to sign up, visit www.ArcticRefugeAction.org

Please forward this alert to friends and colleagues. For information on transportation and lodging, contact us at: CollegelInfo@arcticrefugeaction.org or 202 861-2242, x 3045